

your angle of declination

your wanton disregard for history

olive

once

all things lovely
presenting themselves
at side forward

THE DREAM SUITE
Kim Northrop

a neck
wrists of fine diamonds eyes like
uncracked glass

THE DREAM SUITE

The Dream Suite—a series of mixed-media paintings by artist Kim Northrop—travels the same landscape of the subconscious as the literary inspiration for these works: Neil Gaiman's seminal graphic novel series, The Sandman.

Northrop incorporates her original poetry into these vivid, dreamlike, pieces. These poems mirror Gaiman's themes of Death, Desire, Despair, Delirium (who was once Delight), Destiny, Destruction, and the other denizens of The Dreaming.

For more information please visit www.kimnorthrop.com.

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Kim Northrop's paintings have been exhibited in solo and group exhibitions throughout the United States. In addition, Ms. Northrop has received a number of awards including the 1995 South Florida Cultural Consortium Fellowship, at $15,000 one of the largest individual awards in the United States, participated in the Capital Hill Exhibition Program, Tallahassee, FL, won an Anne McKee Artists Fellowship, Key West, FL, and an Ohio Arts Council Exhibition Grant.

Ms. Northrop was born in Akron, OH in 1963. She received her BFA from Eastern Kentucky University in 1987 and her MFA from Ohio University in 1990.

